

EDITORIAL

Ten articles were selected for the issue 36, number 2, of the Goiano Boletim of Geography, including three publications in English/Portuguese. The editorial decision of publishing bilingual articles has produced results, once the reach of the journal, measured by monthly accesses has risen constantly. This number includes contributions of researchers of several Brazilian institutions, which his proof of the network development of our journal. The themes gravitate among the perspective of urban analyzes, geopolitics, natural resources and geography teaching. The Editorial Board, when submitting this number to the sieve of the readers, believe to be contributing with the dissemination of the geographical knowledge.
