

Authors Guidelines

Manuscripts should be sent to the Revista de Patologia Tropical/Journal of Tropical Pathology at the site: http:// www. revistas.ufg.br/index.php/iptsp or by e-mail: rpt.iptsp@ufg.br.

The manuscript should be prepared using Microsoft Word software version 2003 or later, Times New Roman, size 12, space 1.5 throughout the text and margins with at least 3cm. The word limit is 4,500 with up to 6 insertions (figures and tables).

Original articles should have the following structure:

- a) title
- b) author (s) (up to 8 authors, maximum),
- c) e-mail of the corresponding author;
- d) scientific affiliation (department, institute, college, university, country), and
- e) financing organ (if any);
- f) abstract (with a maximum of 250 words);
- g) key words (three to five);
- h) introduction and objectives;
- i) material and methods,
- j) results;
- k) discussion and conclusions
- l) acknowledgments,
- m) references
- n) figures and tables with their legends.

Text citations: If the author's name is part of a sentence use the following format:

- a) with one author Dubey (2003),
- b) with two authors: Borges & Mendes (2002) and more than two authors: Borges et al. (2007).

Otherwise, when the citation is at the end of the text it should be grouped first chronologically then alphabetically as follows:

- a) one author followed by the year of publication, ex. (Dubey, 2003);
- b) two authors followed by the year of publication, ex. (Borges & Mendes, 2002);
- c) more than two authors, use the first author followed by et al., and the year of publication, ex. (Borges et al., 2007).

References should conform to the requirements used for manuscripts in biomedical journals (Consult: <http://www.nlm.nih.gov/citingmedicine>).

The titles of the journals should be abbreviated according to the style used in the Index Medicus. Consult: <http://www.ncbi.nlm.nih.gov/sites/entrez?db=journals&TabCmd=Limits>.

References to abstracts, personal communications or any other non-indexed source such as thesis and dissertations are not accepted. Footnotes should be avoided. References should be presented in alphabetical order, numbered in ascending order, with input by the last name (s) of author (s).

When more than one work by the same author is cited, the citation should follow the chronological order of publication.

Other types of manuscripts other than original articles such as communications (notes), case reports and updates should not necessarily follow the structure described above. Please consult similar article type previously published in the Revista de Patologia Tropical/Journal of Tropical Pathology.

The illustrations should be sent in a separate file and must meet the quality standards necessary to allow a good reproduction. Digital images, JPEG format, should be approximately 300 dpi resolution, 11 cm wide and should be designated as figure consecutively numbered, i.e., Figure 1, Figure 2, etc. in the text.

Tables should be executed on the same software used in the preparation of the text and should not exceed one page in length.

The color photographs will only be available in the online version of the Journal. The printed version of the photographs will be in black and white.

However if the authors opt for the colored version of the photographs also in the printed version the extra costs of the color offsets reproduction will be of the author's responsibility.

Acceptance of the manuscript

The manuscripts will be accepted after compliance with all stages of processing.

All manuscripts will be submitted to qualified peer reviewers, please check the peer review process.
